

Reading Questions: David Hume, "Dialogues Concerning Natural Religion" (Part II only)

1. In part II of Hume's "Dialogues" Cleanthes gives an argument for God's existence based on design. To the best of your ability, outline that argument premise by premise and include the conclusion.
2. Philo objects to Cleanthes' argument. What is his objection? (Hint: he uses the example of a house.)